

A hard nut to crack?

Discover the peak of relaxation

The lightness
of being

After weeks and weeks of the exhausting daily grind, you truly deserve a holiday. A holiday in every sense of the word. But how? Where? When? That's the nut you must crack. And when you do, you're bound to discover passion. Passionate people with the art of hospitality in their hearts, who are constantly re-inventing their role as hosts, never giving routine the slightest chance to surface. That's our passion. That's what we do. And that's what you'll feel.

At our three-star superior hotel, you'll feel just as if you were in your own home – with the slight addition that you'll be discreetly spoiled by our staff of 26. But there's nothing stiff about this kind of service, since everything is guided by our motto, the lightness of being. We like to keep things laid-back, cheerful, and relaxed: You can trust our motto to shape every aspect of life at our hotel – every day.

Some things, however, will be different from your own home. At the Spitzhorn Chalet Hotel, you won't be smoking on your balcony, but rather in the star-lit Cheminée Fumoir.

An enthusiastic patron once compared the Saanenland region of Switzerland to the harmony of a beautiful melody: Nothing is exaggerated and everything breathes quiet green beauty for the meadows and forests, blue for the lakes and sky, and white for the clouds and snow. You'll find yourself just standing there and enjoying it, surrounded by a ring of high mountain peaks. One of the most stunning of these peaks bears the name Spitzhorn, a "fair-weather mountain" that splits apart the clouds. This is where our hotel can be found: Come inside. Step away from the rush and stress of everyday life into a paradise of hospitality and comfort. The lightness of being will enchant you to such an extent ... you'll be dreaming of your next stay before you've even left us!

We'll spoil you with an ocean of stars for excellent hospitality.

In December, we'll be opening the Spitzhorn Chalet Hotel: It's been completely re-built, brand new from top to bottom. New? Now that's a fantastic opportunity – and we've seized it. Everything has been made just a touch more generous: broader corridors, brighter rooms, deeper plates, larger drinks... Even the Champagne is more sparkly, the weather sunnier, the mountains higher, the pool more inviting, the alpine meadows more colourful, the Internet more exciting – even the smiles of our staff are brighter than before. Only your bill remains blissfully modest, a happy reflection of your unforgettable holiday at the Spitzhorn. You simply have to experience it yourself – it's the holiday destination on everyone's lips...

Your hosts, Ilse and Michel Wichman, look forward to welcoming you.

What everyday life simply can't give you, the Spitzhorn Hotel can. Let us dust the "same old, same old" off your shoulders, melt away your love handles, strengthen your calf muscles, and put a zing in your bloodstream, setting your mood to "excellent". Enjoy some leisurely shopping, and wherever you look, you'll find beautiful smiles, the happy exchange of friendly glances, and the warmest of suns filling in every corner of your heart. It's what we call the lightness of being. We're your hosts, the Wichmans, and we look forward to welcoming you.
